Installation of Bismarck Club
Will Take Place Tuesday

Suggestion Made That All Bodies
Get Together for "One Large Evening"

Minot hosts of Town Criers will descend on Bismarck Tuesday night. They will install the Bismarck Town Criers club, recently organized, and the newly formed Mandan Town Criers club.

According to word received from W. E. Holheim, secretary of the Minot Criers, there will be 100 Minot Town Criers who will make the trip to Bismarck to give the new club the right kind of a start in life.

The Minot members will come in automobiles, and that there will be a large crowd is not a surprise to local Town Criers, as the organization there has come to be one of the most important factors in the promotion of the city, embracing business and professional men who are willing to give time to the promoting of the city's interests.

At a meeting of the local board of Governors of the Town Criers' club, C. A. Burton, treasurer, was appointed to make arrangements for the installation. It will be held at Elks' hall, it is planned. After the installation the local club will "feed" the visitors.

Three Clubs to Meet
The local organization, which was formed by a small number of men who got together to lay the foundation of the organization, expect the club to have a rapid growth, and to make itself felt in the city.

Thomas Sullivan, secretary of the Mandan Commercial club, is one of the prime movers in the organization of the Town Criers of that city.

The Minot Town Criers have expressed the hope that all three clubs can get together tomorrow night, and the local club officials have invited the Minot boosters to make this city the meeting point.

HUSBAND, ALIEN,
CANDIDACY OF
WIFE CHECKED

Douglas, N. D., Sept. 27.—The candidacy of Mrs. D. F. Sneed, of Ward county, for election as state senator, the first woman to seek such an office in North Dakota, has been impeded by the discovery that her husband has not completed his naturalization, and that neither he nor his wife are citizens. Dr. Sneed, a Canadian, took out his first naturalization papers years ago but had not completed his citizenship. He now seeks to do this and hopes to complete it so that the candidacy of his wife for office may continue.

For some days Polish forces have been gradually working their way around the city which has been the concentration point of Russian Bolshevik forces on the northeastern Polish front.

ILLINOIS BOY
ADMITS THEFT
TO CHIEF HERE

Embezzled $250.00 of Station's
Funds Two Years Ago; Held for Authorities

Russell Williams is going back home, but not because he wants to. When he got back to his home in Illinois he will face a charge of embezzlement. He admitted he took $250 from the railroad station at Riverport, Ill., where he was agent, two years ago and fled.

Williams was working at a local hotel. He cashed a $10 check, police say, and took some articles that didn't belong to him, including a suit of clothes. Officers Seeres and Randall picked him up and landed him in jail. Chief of Police Martenson began questioning the young man—Williams is about 24—and continued at various times. He said his name was Robert Hibbs, and he exhibited a soldier's 4th grade and some insurance papers to prove it. He became twisted in his story, and finally admitted that he took the disbursement and insurance papers from a man in Montana. After a time he confessed that he took the money from the Illinois station. He also gave his correct name.

A telegram from Chief of Police Morris, of Riverport, in reply to one from Chief Martenson, asked the police here to hold him, that he was wanted for a two-year-old crime. Williams was given 30 days in jail here by Justice Casselman and at the expiration of his sentence will be taken back to Illinois.

LEGION HOSTS
IN BIG PARADE
AT CONVENTION

20,000 Former Service Men and Women March in Greatest Event of Three-Day Meeting

1,000 DELEGATES THERE

Hall Resembles Big Political Convention—Several Mentioned
for High Office

Cleveland, Sept. 27.—More than 1,000 delegates were in their seats at the Hippodrome tonight this morning when Franklin D. Oiler, national commander, called to convention the second national convention of the American Legion. The theater floor resembled one of the big political conventions, state standards and banners representing delegations.

The convention adjourned at noon to witness the parade this afternoon of approximately 20,000 former service men and women, the feature of the three-day convention.

One of the first important matters to be presented before the convention after the preliminaries committee, a report of the credentials committee. The committee was in session early today to decide two questions which after protracted debates failed to end in solution at the executive.

Questions Up
These are: Shall each department be allowed only its five delegates at large and one additional delegate for each even 1,000 paid-up members or shall it be allowed one additional delegate for each 1,000 paid-up members or major fraction thereof.

Shall the posts in foreign countries be allowed votes in the convention.

Veterans of all allied nations, it is said, will form a movement to have a league of nations of their own.

Their proposed amalgamation will include the veterans of the United States, the Great War Veterans of Great Britain, the Union Fighters of France and several other French associations.

Mentioned For Office
The most prominent names mentioned in connection with the nomination for national convention are F. W. Gahrath, of Cincinnati; Milton J. Foreman, of Illinois; Emmet O'Neill, of Kentucky, and Harford Mc MacNider, of Iowa.

Approximately 50,000 visitors were here today to witness the parade. A half-holiday was proclaimed, Marshall Foch, of France, sent greetings to the legionnaires.

The Legion is expected to adopt in its convention a statement of its policy to guide its members and posts in their conduct toward labor organizations and industrial disputes.

An announcement issued by the Legion's News Service says that probably its hands-off policy will be reaffirmed and steps taken to enforce that policy on all units of the organization.

"A system to provide means of disciplining members and posts that run counter to the expressed policy of the majority of Legion members will be discussed and probably adopted," the statement adds.

Fails to Provide Means
The national constitution fails to provide any means of putting restraint on members who embrace the Legion by unauthorized statements or acts. The fact, according to National Commander Franklin D. Oiler, has caused the entire organization to suffer from adverse criticism directed against the activities of one small post.

Methods of curbing the activities of violent radical organizations, the treatment of alien "slackers," the immigration question in general and the Japanese problem in particular, better schools, universal military training, women in the Legion and its auxiliaries, rules for eligibility to the organization, and prosecution of those fraudulently wearing the insignia of the Legion are among the subjects to be considered.

Means to improve the War Risk Bureau, Public Health Service and the Federal Board for Vocational Training will be discussed.

The convention, which will bring together delegates from 3,600 posts situated in the United States, a dozen foreign countries and United States possessions, representing a membership of close to 2,000,000 veterans of the world war, will adjourn September 29. The delegates are expected to number about 3,000, while it is believed 25,000 unofficial visitors will attend.

The program calls for reports from national officers and committees the first day of the convention. Temporary committees will present their resolutions the second day, and on the closing day officers will be elected.

There are half a dozen candidates for the office of national commander, and a hot fight is expected.

All 54 Living Medal of Honor men of the American army and Marine Corps have been invited to attend the convention as guests of the city of Cleveland.

Everything is in readiness for the opening of the second annual convention which will be in session here through Wednesday. Plans have been completed to care for the largest gathering of world war American veterans of the world war. In addition to the 3,000 delegates expected the city has prepared for thousands of visitors accompanying state delegations.

All hotels have been reserved for the Legionnaires and many are guests in the homes of Clevelanders.

URGES MONTANA
DEMOCRATS TO VOTE FOR G. O. P.

Senator Myers, Democrat, Declares Duty of Democrats to Oppose League

'WON'T BETRAY MY STATE'

Would Rather Retire Than See Orgy of Radicalism Such as Prevails in N. D., He Says

Washington, Sept. 27.—Declaring that the Nonpartisan league had taken over the Democratic party in Minnesota, Senator Myers, Democrat of that state, in a formal statement issued here today urged Montana Democrats to support the Republican congressional and state ticket with the exception of the nominee for Attorney General.

"There is no reason," said Sen. Myers, "why the Democratic party of Montana should be swallowed by a hybrid combination of radicals and revolutionists bent on ruin and here is no reason why a Democrat should swallow their nondescript ticket. I refuse to do so."

Want Betray State
"This action may mean my political death warrant. I would a thousand times rather retire to private life than to continue in public life at the price of betraying my state into the hands of what I consider the worst elements of politics, and turning it over to a carnival of lawlessness and an orgy of radicalism such as has prevailed in North Dakota for several years."

Senator Myers explained that the Nonpartisan league had obtained the Democratic nomination in his state by entering its candidates as Democrats in the recent state primary. The senator said that while his condemnation did not apply to the Democratic nomination for Governor personally he "could not stand his backers and associates."

WATER DAMAGE ADJUSTMENT IS MADE BY STORE

Otto Johnson Returns From
East and Makes Arrangements for Sale

Otto Johnson, of Johnsons Department store, has returned to the city, being called here from Chicago because of the damage done to the store by water last Thursday when a water pipe above became clogged and burst during the heavy rainstorm.

Mr. Johnson was in Chicago on a buying trip, when word reached him of the accident, and he returned immediately.

"The damage is greater than was at first believed," said Mr. Johnson. "It is more than $10,000. We are fortunate, however, that the accident happened in the afternoon instead of at night. Had it happened at night there would not be Johnson's store in Bismarck."

"The work of the employees of the store in removing stock as fast as they could with water pouring down from above saved us from larger damage. We made an adjustment with the insurance men today, and are going to start in immediately to dispose of the stock."

Our store will be closed tomorrow, and on Wednesday will be opened for the sale. All classes of articles in our store were damaged, and all classes will be offered in the sale at very low prices.

The insurance on the goods does not cover the entire loss.

The quota for the United States last year was 44. Instead of the normal 32, making up for the postponement of elections during the war.

Those chosen from North Dakota, subject to the ratification of the committee, are:

1920—Francis H. Crawford, Bismarck; 1921—James Frazier, Prairie N. D.

Scholars elected as far as 1920 will go to Oxford in January 1921 and those elected as far as 1926 will go in October of that year to bring appointments back to the regular schedule.

BOY, AGED 3, SHOT BY BROTHER IN PLAY, DIES IN HOSPITAL HERE

Little Raymond Chappell Succumbs to Gunshot Wound; Brother, Playing in Home, Picks Loaded Revolver out of Trunk

The body of Raymond Chappell, a beautiful tow-headed kiddie of three years, lies in a simple, snow-white coffin today, while brother Everett, three years older, sadly means that he "didn't mean to do it."

Raymond died in a hospital in Bismarck late Saturday afternoon from a gunshot wound caused by his brother Everett. The little fellow made a brave fight for life, after being shot in the abdomen by a big-caliber revolver in the hands of his brother early in the morning.

The two boys, sons of Mrs. E. H. Chappell, who is housekeeper for J. H. West, farmer, living about 10 miles north of Sterling, were in a playful mood. They had gone upstairs once to play and had entered the room of Mr. West, but the mother called them down. While she bawled herself with her duties, the boys slipped away upstairs again.

A little later there was a shot.

then a scream. Little Raymond was found on the floor; the brother was terror-stricken. In playing the boys had opened a trunk of Mr. West, according to information supplied by friends, and taken out a .38 calibre revolver. It was loaded, and was in the hands of Everett when it was accidentally discharged. The bullet entered the abdomen of Raymond, tearing a bad hole. He was brought to a hospital in Bismarck, where he died.

Mrs. Chappell is the mother of several children. Raymond was born in Canada. He was the pride of the neighbors in the vicinity of the Chappell home. Dressed often in a white suit, his golden hair, his ruddy, chubby face and his winning smile made him friends among the neighbors. The entire community feels the blow of the sad accident. The body was taken from a local undertaking establishment today, and will be laid to rest in the cemetery near the home.

President of Chicago Retail Grocers' Association Predicts General Reductions

LACK OF CREDIT CAUSE

Chicago, Sept. 27.—A general reduction in food prices was predicted today by Sol Westerfield, president of the retail grocers' association, who declared all articles of food with the exception of eggs and butter are due for a steady decline. The unwillingness of banks to loan money except at high interest rates as resulted in producers cutting prices to move their goods; Westerfield said.

"Reductions have been felt all over Chicago," he said. "Potatoes are selling at 45 to 55 cents a peck, the lowest in years. I expect they will reach less than 2 cents a pound."

"Tomatoes are selling at 10 to 15 cents for two and one-half pound baskets. Sugar has dropped to 15 cents and will go lower when the new crop comes in."

Must Move Stock
"The canned goods being packed will have to be sold cheaply to move a despite high wage costs," Westerfield said. "Because banks will not loan canners enough money to carry the stock."

"The declines in wheat have brought a sharp drop in flour," he continued. "Although the bakers' production costs have increased I look for a reduction in bread prices. Coffee has dropped to 10 cents a pound."

Fruit Down

"Fruit prices are at a minimum. Despite the excessive delay there are large quantities of peaches at $1.50 a case. This is less than the price demanded since 1911."

"Generally lower prices are in sight. Although it may mean financial loss to producers and distributors the nation will benefit and a return to normal conditions will be effected."

Seven pleasure boats sent to Chicago by municipal authorities to bring back fruit are expected here Wednesday. City officials will sell the fruit at cost plus transportation.

LICENSE CASE OF LOCAL FIRMS
BEFORE COURT

The case in which the state of North Dakota, through the attorney general, seeks to have cancelled the licenses of two local firms opened in district court today before Judge Nussle.

The firms are the Stacy-Bismarck company and the Bismarck Gambler. The firms are represented by the state and Francis Murphy, of Minot, Judge C. J. Fisk and Pierce of Minot, Judge C. J. Fisk and Judge Dunn, of St. Paul, and C. J. Murphy, of Grand Forks, are representing the defendants.

Mr. Shrets, in opening the case, put W. E. Boyd, formerly manager for the Stacy-Bismarck company here, on the stand in an effort to prove his contentions that the two defendant companies entered into price fixing and unfair competition in an effort to put the Murray and McLean commission company out of business.

M. E. CONFERENCE

Much interest is manifested in the probable assumption of waters. It is expected that the Bismarck district will be able to supply nearly all of its points the coming year, although there will be a number of changes. Bishop Charles Wesley Bates will preside.

Three Men Slain at Belfast Following Murder of Policeman and Wounding of Two Cork, Sept. 27.—A violent explosion shook the city about 2 o'clock this morning. It was followed by the rattle of rifle fire in various parts of the business district. When the towns people ventured forth later in the morning after the curfew has expired they found the main thoroughfare—Patrick Street—littered with glass and the front of a large department store which is said to employ a large number of young Sinn Feiners wrecked as if by bomb.

RIOTS IN BELFAST

London, Sept. 27.—Cork was shaken by a great explosion early this morning—one of the large dry goods stores in the city being demolished. The explosion was followed by the sound of rifle and machine gun firing, says a Cork dispatch to the London News. Military authorities in Cork, the dispatch says, allege bombs were placed inside one of the large windows of the place. Three men have been slain at Belfast following the murder of one policeman and the wounding of others.

Dispatches received here indicate the assassination of these three men were deliberately planned. Serious rioting has occurred in Belfast and it is said a number of wounded persons have been received in hospitals here. Large forces of troops with armored cars are on duty in that city.

SHOOTING IN BELFAST

Belfast, Sept. 27.—Shooting by snipers and others in the center of Belfast last night caused a panic among the crowd on Royal Avenue, the city's main artery, after a church house. The disturbance followed shooting Saturday night in which one policeman was killed and two others were wounded, followed by the assassination of three civilians in reprisals by masked men.

Snipers in the Sinn Fein quarter fired into Royal street. Women rushed about in frenzy and there was a rush to shelter in the tramcars. After protective measures by military and police conditions quieted down.

MACSWINEY'S 16TH DAY

London, Sept. 27.—Lord Mayor Terence MacSwiney, of Cork, passed another bad night at Brixton prison and was in a very weak and exhausted condition this morning, says a bulletin issued by the Irish self-determination league.

He had a little sleep before midnight but none after that time. This is the 16th day of his hunger strike.

ROBBERIES ARE EPIDEMIC; MANY STORES LOOTED

Railroad Stations Also Entered
by Robbers and Mail Sacks
Are Cut Open

An epidemic of robberies is reported in small towns in North Dakota by detectives who operate out of Bismarck over various parts of the state.

The robbers have not touched the big cities to any great extent, except in Fargo. They have apparently steered clear of Bismarck. The I. W. W. convention to be held in New Rockford is believed to have attracted a large band of floaters who are causing considerable trouble.

The N. P. depot at Carrington was entered Thursday night, but it is reported that nothing has been found missing. The depot at Tower City was entered over a week ago, and some baggage taken. Much of it was found in the brush nearby. Packages taken containing ladies' wearing apparel had been out open, but it is believed most of the goods were recovered. The Sunday before a mail sack, which was thrown out of the train, had been cut open and a previous case of this kind is reported.

It was reported that three or four cars of merchandise on the Soo lines at points north of the city were entered.

Many automobiles have been stolen, and auto owners are warned to be careful in leaving their cars in such a manner so that they may be easily stolen.

Quartz lenses are now being made in a brand and intense heat.

An ancient clock dating from the fifth century has been discovered with the revolutions of the Rheme cathedral.

HISTORIC DAYS OF CITY TOLD TO CLUBWOMEN

Mary McLean Gives Recollections of Noted Figures and Incidents in City History

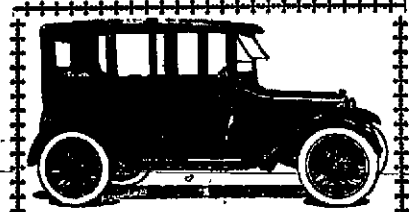

CAPITOL CORNERSTONE

Stirring incidents of pioneer days of Bismarck and recollections of leading figures of those days were related by Mary L. McLean, in a paper read before the Current Events Club at the home of Mrs. Postlethwaite Wednesday afternoon. The paper was entitled "Historic Characters of North Dakota."

She gave the itinerary of the Lewis and Clark expedition, which began the ascent of the Missouri in 1804, in which she told of their camping at Mandan on the site where now stands the Lewis and Clark hotel, their camping at the site where Washburn is now located and 15 miles farther on where they camped for the winter, which they named Fort Mandan. It was here they secured Sak-aka-wa and her husband to act as guides for the expedition. Here too they hosted the American flag which is believed to have been the first flag to float on the breeze in North Dakota.

A short account of the Sibley and Sully expedition was given. The personnel of Fort Lincoln in 1872, the fatal march on May 15, 1876, when Custer and his brave band left Fort Lincoln. She also told of steam-boating on the Missouri, Capt. Grant Marsh, Capt. Walfolk, Capt. William Braithwaite and Capt. John Belk were among the most prominent in the early days.

Capt. I. P. Baker and Capt. J. C. Barr and Captain Dan Marratta were the general managers for the "Club."

Record Run.
Capt. Grant Marsh distinguished himself in making a record run down the Missouri with the survivors of the battle of the Little Big Horn when Custer and his entire command lost their lives. She told of the Bismarck Tribune being the first in the state to print the sad news, and J. M. Casman being the first operator to send a message of this terrible tragedy to the outside world, holding the wire for 22 hours without assistance.

Leaving stirring scenes she told of the Carls Governors of the territory, the appointment of a capital commission on which Alexander Hughes and Alexander McKenzie took a prominent part. Also those of note in the state with counties named in their honor, those of local interest are General E. A. Williams, Dr. J. P. Dunn and Alexander McKenzie and John A. McLean.

Laying Cornerstone.
The account of the laying of the cornerstone of the capitol in Bismarck, Sept. 5, 1883, was also given at which time the following people of note were present: Gen. Grant, Gen. Sheridan, Gen. Washburn and Gen. Sibley, the British, German and Swedish ministers to the United States, Marshall Field, J. J. Hill, Carl Schurz, and General Hubbard of Minnesota.

Germany had 30 representatives from the reichstag and England was officially represented by Lord Sackville West, making it one of the most noted gatherings ever held in the west. The noted visitors had been invited by Henry Villard, then president of the Northern Pacific railroad.

In concluding she told of Farmer Wallace, whose name has been so intimately associated with the history of state fairs. It was owing to his artistic arrangement of the North Dakota exhibit at the state fair in New Orleans in 1884 that North Dakota won first prize.

Don't You Get Tired of Grinding Valves?

OF what value is a motor that is forever in the repair shop? forever accumulating carbon? forever developing engine trouble? forever an invalid in need of a doctor?

The Willys-Knight motor, with its sleeve valve principle, has no valves to grind, and long use serves only to seal up its compression and re-vitalize its power.

The life of an ordinary motor is simply a period of intermittent convalescence. The life of a Willys-Knight is one long unbroken span of robust, reinvigorated performance.

When the average car is recuperating in the repair shop, the Willys-Knight still carries on!

It is the nearest thing to perpetual motion yet developed in an automobile.

Generous assistance rendered by pastors of other churches in urging members of their congregations to open their doors to visiting delegates to the Baptist state convention, which opens at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning, apparently assures sufficient provision for the entertainment of all persons who will attend the convention. MODERN PLANS FOR JERUSALEM

One Is for a Tunnel to Pass Beneath It From Dead Sea to Mediterranean.

MAY PRESERVE IT INTACT

What the Houses and Stables of Ancient Palestine Are Really Like—Village Streets Crooked, Narrow and Unpaved.

Washington—Palestine soon may take its place among industrial nations and ancient Jerusalem may become a humming mart of modern trade if projects in contemplation are realized. One such project is that of building a tunnel from the Dead Sea to the Mediterranean passing under Jerusalem which would utilize the variation in levels to provide water power for stations along the way. A second suggestion is to build a new industrial zone about Jerusalem while the ancient city is preserved intact.

In this connection the National Geographic society has issued from its Washington headquarters, the following announcement based on a communication to the society by John D. Whiting:

"The present day villages are located, as a rule, either on the top of hills originally for protection, or near some spring or source of water. Many are built upon the foundations whose origin dates back thousands of years. There does not exist a single example of a peasant village that has been founded in modern times.

Old-Style Village Home.

"Many have pictured Mary and Joseph, after arriving at the inn at Bethlehem, and finding no room, being forced to turn into some barn built of timber with thatched roof, hay mow, wooden mangers and stalls for cattle and sheep. Such a stable has been the subject of many medieval and modern artists but it does not present a really true picture. Let us consider the old style village home that is most common in the districts around Jerusalem and Bethlehem. For that village there are no open fields or gardens but the house is next to house except for the small wall-d-in inclosures or sheepfolds through which one generally passes in going into a dwelling.

"The house itself consists of one large room usually square. The walls are built in four feet thick, are built of blocks of stone roughly dressed and not in mortar, roofed over with a dome also of stone.

"Entering the door, we find that about two-thirds of the space is devoted to a raised masonry platform, some eight to ten feet above the ground and supported by low domed arches. This raised space, called a claudia, is the part occupied by the family while the lower part is used for the cattle and flocks.

On one side is an open fireplace with a chimney running through the wall and terminating on the roof.

Furniture is Simple.

"The furniture is very simple—a crudely decorated chest, a straw mat or heavy woven woolen rug which covers part of the floor and mattresses with thick quilts and hard pillows which at night are spread on the floor. The cooking utensils are few in number—one clay cooking pot, a couple of large wooden bowls in which to knead the dough and a couple of small earthenware used to eat from.

"Having inspected the dwelling portion, which at once is kitchen, storeroom, bedroom and living room, we descend the steps into what the natives call the stable.

"Below the mainstays or raised platform, just described, among arches so low that a man can scarcely walk erect, are the winter quarters of the goats and sheep. To shut the flocks in these arched enclosures are obstructed with bundles of brush used as firewood for the winter. The rest of the floor space, which is open to the ceiling is devoted to the few work cattle and perhaps a donkey or camel. Around the wall are primitive mangers for the cattle, built of rough slabs of stone placed on edge and plastered up with mortar.

"Often the owner makes a small raised place on which he sleeps at night to keep better watch over the newly born lambs, lest in the crowded quarters some get crushed or trodden down by the older ones. Here he often sleeps by preference on a cold night, for he says the breath of the animals keeps him warm."

Particularly assistance was rendered by Revs. Quigley, Postlethwaite and Strutz, it was stated.

President Griffith will open the convention with an address tomorrow, to be followed by an address by Rev. E. C. Killam of Chicago, at 10 a.m. in the convention sermon by Dr. Ralph W. Hobbs of Fargo at 12 noon, and an illuminating address by Dr. M. D. Eubank, a successful physician for many years in western China, at 11:30 a.m.

The program for Tuesday evening is planned in the interest of Bismarck people as well as the visitors. W. E. Parsons will give a toast of welcome to delegates and visitors in behalf of the church. Mayor A. V. Lucas will welcome the delegates on behalf of Bismarck and President Griffith will respond. Dr. Frank Peterson of Minneapolis will make an address and at 9 p.m. Dr. Sumner R. Vinson of New York will give a series of artist slides which recently attracted 100 to 5000 people a night in Buffalo, N. Y. for several nights.

ISSUE WARNING AGAINST FAKE COLORED DRINKS

Washington, Sept. 27.—Warning against "fake fruit beverages" which have flooded the soft drink market since the advent of prohibition was issued today by the Public Health Service. Many of the orange beverages now being sold it was said consist only of watered carbonated water flavored with a little oil from the peel of orange and are falsely colored. The department of agriculture has ruled that provisions of the pure food act will be held to have been violated in case such drinks are sold under trade names which lead the purchaser to believe they contain the edible portion or juice of the fruit named.

HARDING LEADS IN STRAW VOTE

Senator Warren G. Harding is leading in the straw vote being taken in North Dakota by Rexall drug stores according to tabulations given today to the A. P. Lechman drug company here. The total for the state thus far in the drug store vote shows 1411 for Harding and 779 for Cox. In Bismarck Harding is running about 3 to 1 ahead of Cox.

The total for the northern and middle states including North Dakota shows 51,101 for Harding and 25,003 for Cox, while in the "solid south" Cox maintains a lead of 2,000 over Harding. Women in North Dakota are voting for Harding.

Mrs. Voss and her husband have been spending a part of their honeymoon with friends in the country near here.

BARTER IN AUSTRIA

Medium of Exchange as Paper Crowns Lose Value.

Peasant Demands Something More Valuable Than Paper Currency for His Products.

Vienna—Only Americans of a generation ago who sold farm products at the crossroads store for everything from shoes to sugar can realize the extent of barter in Austria today.

With the country flooded with cheap money, the peasants' stockings and bank accounts full with currency and legislation impending for a compulsory levy on fortunes, the paper crown virtually is spurned by those who produce the necessities of life.

For eggs or butter or cheese or white flour fat goes, and the peasant products and all the things that the Austrian city dweller must do without, the peasant wants something more valuable than the paper crown constantly turned out by the Austro-Hungarian banks.

Prodigious offers of croons fall where a linen shirt, silk stockings (even much dirtier) or a musical instrument, shoes and such things bring results.

The story of how the home-made and poor quality of Vienna have parted with their wares and furniture, their pianos and cupboards for food has been often told. Now, however, is getting back to first principles in trade.

Visiting a retired officer in his little country place, the correspondent saw it work. The officer could not pay 500 crowns a year for gloves for a wife and three children. But he had three rebel rifles from the war, he had shot this season. He exchanged them for two dressed huts. The village grocer took them into gloves, taking in payment other munition and some wool from the little farm.

Then came the problem of stock, lines almost unobtainable in Austria. The wife, with sheep grazing on the plain, stood there crying enough wool to exchange for a sufficient to knit the winter jersey for the coming winter.

He says he feels ten years younger than he did ten years before he began the practice.

SHIPS GUIDED NOW BY "EARS"

Listening Devices in Hulls Tell Channel Route Into New York Harbor.

CAN TELL EXACT LOCATION

Sound Waves Emitted by Energized Cable Laid in Center of Channel Are Picked Up by Audiophones on Vessels.

New York—The principle of "follow the green line" used successfully by the management of New York's subway system in handling crowds at congested transfer points, has been adapted in a measure to insure safety to ships at sea around crowded harbors. Instead of a visible green line, however, a device has been perfected whereby vessels seeking their way into harbor in thick weather can follow with safety a submerged and energized wire.

In the outer reaches of New York harbor where deep water meets shoals there begins a marine passage way known as Ambrose channel. This channel leads up through the Narrows into the inner harbor and to the docks, and in this channel the guiding cable has been laid. Ships properly equipped to take advantage of its guiding powers can follow it through any kind of weather with the same degree of assurance as can the passenger who seeks to make his way from Grand Central terminal to Times square.

MODERN READERS OF FICTION

Both Men and Women Said to Appreciate the Viewpoint Put Forward by Authors.

Women who are giving greater importance to woman's sphere are discerning readers of fiction says the New York Evening Post. This is the conclusion drawn by James Hay Jr. after careful observation, and it would probably meet with some skepticism on the part of people who think that fiction serves mainly to amuse. He writes in a recent publication that he long ago discovered that certain men and women "appropriate new viewpoints" but the knack of defending with facts and plays of fancy their own opinions had their favorite sports, flowers and colors, and pleased with their eagerness to hear of any new thing touching their recreation or work—and that such men and women had in large measure developed their own striking personalities through intimate intercourse with the unusual characters whom great writers had found to be worth writing about. These people by reading fiction had put their hands on the motives of men while others depended for their knowledge of life and of men and women on their own experience, and remained alien to the world's great dramas.

WHEN A TYPHOON HITS GUAM

Island Makes a Small Target, but Storm Center Has Found It All Too Frequently.

Typhoons sometimes visit the island of Guam and are very destructive in the path of the center. The Asiatic typhoons originate near Guam, but unless the center passes directly over the island the effect is not serious. As the island is small this does not often happen. But did happen in July, 1918, with disastrous results. The loss of life was fortunately slight, but the damage otherwise was great, consisting in the unroofing or total destruction of many habitations (Government houses lost a third of its roof, the loss of all crops and the uprooting of or serious injury to all trees, especially coconut and fruit trees.

These typhoons are rotary storms which have a motion of translation as well. Their coming can be foretold, some hours in advance by an increasing wind with falling barometer and by the direction of the wind and the appearance of the clouds. The center is a calm area of some miles in diameter with very light breeze in the center and the wind increases to a maximum as the center draws near and then falls abruptly to calm.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE CREATES NEW DEPARTMENT TO MAKE WORK MORE EFFECTIVE

Washington, Sept. 27.—To develop neglected sources of public and private profit through the application of new processes discovered by Department of Agriculture experts an office of Development work has been created by Secretary Meredith in the Bureau of Chemistry. The staff will be made up of engineers headed by David J. Price, chief engineer in the dust-explosion investigations conducted by the department, who will furnish for the convenience of manufacturers data upon which the product is adapted.

Dr. Carl L. Alsberg, chief of the Bureau of Chemistry, sponsor of the new plan, said such a service was urgently needed to translate the work of the bureau into terms that could be understood and applied by the manufacturers and investor. Every year, he said, valuable discoveries are made concerning utilization of manufacturing waste, a new food is found, or a new dye, glue, or preservative. It will be the business of the new office, to give such discoveries practical application.

BLOODED STOCK SHOW FEATURES WAHPETON FAIR

Thoroughbreds in Large Numbers Are Shown to Breeders in South Valley District

Wahpeton, Sept. 27.—The 15th Richland county fair was by far the most successful fair ever held in the Southern Valley in so far as exhibits were concerned. The quantity and quality of exhibits were more than doubled. The 1920 fair up to Friday was the most successful of all of them in the way of crowds and weather. It pleased the weather man to make it pour continually up to Friday morning. From then until Saturday night there were great crowds.

No doubt the biggest thing at the fair was the wonderful stock show. This consisted of 27 entries, totaling 223 individuals. The outstanding shows were the Shorthorn show, the Duroc Jersey show, the Holstein show and the Aberdeen Angus show. The wonderful Shorthorn show consisted of 51 individuals from the herds of Wm. Johnson, Fairmount; Aston Lipovsky, Lidgerwood; Dan Wright & Son, Wahpeton; August Matt, Wahpeton and a few scattering entries. Among the bunch were many individuals which will be heard from in the larger fairs later. The shorthorn prize went to Lipovsky's Avon Superior.

The splendid Duroc Jersey show consisted of 85 individuals from the following herds: E. L. Tarr, Colfax; Wolf Bros., Colfax; Julius Wolf, Lidgerwood; C. E. Carey, Lidgerwood; Mr. Williams, Lidgerwood; Delke Bros., Mooreton; Robert Hecks, Hankinson; Martin Cady, Wahpeton. One of the features of this show was the splendid class of seven aged boars. It gave the keenest of competition, the honors being finally carried off by Julius Wolf, Lidgerwood, second and Wolf Bros., third. The Duroc men organized a Richland County Duroc Jersey Breeders' Association shortly after the judging was completed. They are enthusiastic over their splendid show. By reason of their wonderful herd boars they have little trouble in making Richland county one of the big Duroc centers. The Holstein people also had a splendid show, consisting of forty-one individuals from the following herds: Manikowski Farm, Mooreton; C. J. Skoterman, Mooreton; Ned Jones, Hankinson; E. L. Tarr, Colfax; County Farm, Wahpeton. This was a large and splendid show with the keenest of competition between the herds, the honors finally going to the Manikowski farm.

The Aberdeen Angus show consisted of the R. A. Conder herd of 22 head. This herd was on its way to its new home at Wm. Irons farm, Colfax, where they will be heard from later.

The other livestock exhibits were good but smaller in number. They consisted of a nice string of Belgians from the John Wiebusen farm, Tyler; a good Poland China display from Aston Lipovsky and Jos. Ronke farms; and a few Chester White entries.

The Women's building under the competent management of Mrs. P. C. Olson, more than doubled all former performances.

POEM OPENS JAIL DOORS

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 27.—George Jeffers, a 20 year old poet of Farnsworth, Ind., wrote his way into jail when he composed a poem and brought it to Chicago to sell to J. Ogden Armour. The boy was arrested and the armour home in Lake Forest when he insisted on seeing the millionaire packer.

Jeffers solved the problem of getting out of jail by following the same course that took him there. A rhymed apology, when presented to Judge Henry Horner won him his freedom. The poem entitled, "An Explanation," follows:

Not so funny, after all, is my adventure—
Selling poems at the Ogden Armour home;
For I find myself arrested and my mental powers tested,
While I long for just another chance to roam.

See your pardon, Mr. Armour, for intruding—
I will never, never call on you again;
Till you send an invitation I will never leave my station,

"CHIN-CHIN" RETIRES!

NEW YORK—Florence Walton, the dancer who spends $5,000 a year for shoes, has another hobby, too. It's "Chin-Chin," her Pekinese lap dog. Miss Walton is shown here putting "Chin-Chin" to bed, in his beautiful four-poster mahogany. "Chin-Chin" has crossed the ocean 16 times.

For my former call has caused me lots of pain.
I will live in sweet seclusion in the future,
And serenely write my poems every day.
Never thinking of the Armour's living out among the farmers,
With the wall to keep the likes of me away.

LEGION HOSTS IN BIG PARADE AT CONVENTION

Oiler has been in conference with the executive committee of the legion composed of a delegate from each state for several days.

Headquarters Moved.
National headquarters were moved here from Indianapolis about two weeks ago, with Lemuel Bolles, of Seattle, national adjutant, in charge.

The first annual reunion of the thirty-seventh Division Veterans' Association will be held tomorrow. The division had planned to give a reproduction of the "Battle of the Argonne," but owing to lack of men, it was cancelled, when it was said, the war department refused to send an additional 8,000 men.

The city is decorated as rarely before in honor of the veterans. Archways have been erected in the downtown district and scores of buildings are flying the American flag, the service flag and the Legion pennant. Many amusement features have been arranged.

Special entertainment has been arranged for holders of the Congressional Medal of Honor, the most difficult of all war decorations to obtain. Forty of the fifty-four living medalists have notified their intention of attending, and will be guests of honor of the Cleveland convention committee.

Admiral Grant of the British Grand fleet, will be the personal representative of Admiral David Beatty.

Gen. Marie Emile Fayolle, who is said to have had more to do with the first employment of American troops than any other French commander, will represent the French government.

Legion's policy in political affairs, the Legion's stand on labor matters, measures pertaining to vocational education, and war risk insurance will be discussed. It is expected, during the convention.

Frank D'Olier, national commander, called the convention to order this morning at 10 a. m. after which the Rev. Francis J. Reiley, of Troy, N. Y., national chaplain, delivered the invocation. Mayor W. S. Fitzgerald delivered the city's address of welcome. Then came reports of the national commander, of Lemuel Bolles, Seattle, national adjutant, of Robert H. Tyndall, Indianapolis, Ind., national treasurer, and of various committees.

The parade was scheduled to start at 1:30 p. m.

Booths business will take up the morning of September 28. In the evening there will be dances, boxing exhibitions, and other entertainments.

Catholics business is scheduled to be held on the morning of the 29th. Election of officers will then bring the convention to a close.

LIBERTY BONDS MAKE GAINS IN WEEK'S MARKET

New York, Sept. 27.—The activity and strength of Liberty bonds constituted the most conspicuous and reassuring feature of last week in the investment market. Those issues and victory notes in several instances recovering more than half of the severe losses sustained in the early months of the year.

The vigorous rebound of quotations for these issues occasioned surprise in many quarters, where it was thought that the latest price cutting would mark the end of their boom. It was this condition which caused heavy selling and consequent price depreciation last spring.

Much of the recent accumulation of these war obligations is credited to the larger banks, industrial corporations and insurance companies, some of which found it necessary or expedient to liquidate their holdings in part during the more stringent credit conditions several months ago.

Closing prices Saturday follow: 3 1-2s, $90.40; first 4s, $88.00 bid; 1 1-4s, $89.50; third 4 1-4s, $90.72; fourth 4 1-4s, $89.10; Victory 3 3-4s, $96.50; Victory 4 3-4s, $96.30.

GOODRICH SHOW AT AUDITORIUM FAILS TO DRAW

To enjoy a play one must put one's self in the proper atmosphere, have been told.

And the proper atmosphere for the enjoyment of "Sleeping Partners" at the Auditorium Saturday night, we suggest, would be in Bohemia, with a haze of smoke in the room, wine glasses clinking, and men and women engaged in careless conversation—anything but a normal mood.

Edna Goodrich is beautiful. She is accomplished. But the French farce in which she came to Bismarck does not have the quality of the bed-room farces which have infested the stage and on which it enjoyed some popularity in the east. It is not uproariously funny; it is not funny at all except in a few places. Nor is it risqué enough to excite hushed whispers. It is an idea rather a suggestion which may be developed in accordance with French ideas of humor, but hardly the ideas of Americans. The play was translated from the French of Sancha Guitry. Six characters appeared, two bearing the brunt of the work.

"Sleeping Partners" got its name from an innocent visit of a beautiful married woman to a bachelor's apartment where he gives her a sleeping draught by mistake for a stimulant and so rather embarrassed when he awakens from an uncomfortable slumber in a Morris chair next morning and is asked to help the wife's husband explain to her why he had not been home the night before.

It was witnessed by a small crowd of about 100 French coast was thought by the early Spaniards to

For a year we gave her all kinds of tonics but to no good. One day one of your little books was thrown on our porch and I saw what Lydia E. NORTH DAKOTA ASKED TO ADOPT 1500 CHILDREN

Mrs. Jeanette W. Emerick Opens
the Near East Campaign
Here Last Night

A preparatory address for the Near East campaign which will be held here in October, was given last evening at the First Presbyterian church, when Mrs. Jeanette W. Emerick of Turkey, presented the distressing conditions in Armenia. Mrs. Emerick came under the provisions of congress, and the Near East association of which Alden E. Dodge, of New York city, is chairman.

In her address last evening, Mrs. Emerick outlined the lack of responsibility taken by any nation to alleviate the pitiable conditions in Asia Minor. She gave in a very sympathetic and forceful manner, a number of deplorable incidents.

There are 800,000 Armenian children to be supported, 250,000 of these have been assigned to the United States. Burleigh county is asked to adopt 37 out of the 1,500 North Dakota is asked to care for, who are now starving in Asia. The local committee in charge of the campaign includes: Mrs. E. J. Quinn, Rev. H. C. Postlethwaite, and Rev. G. H. Quigley, and another member, yet to be appointed.

PROBLEM WITH OVERBLOUSES

Bonnie Campbell

BY CORA MOORE.
New York's Fashion Authority.

New York, Sept. 25--The new long overblouses have aroused a great deal of interest in connection with the high cost of being well-dressed, as they go a long way toward a satisfactory solution of the problem.

For instance, illustrated is a costume comprising a slip of black satin with bandeau top, a straight folded skirt of its own satin and a three-quarter length overblouse of yellow tulle embroidered in black, worn over which is suitable for a number of informal daytime occasions.

With the same slip might be worn a second blouse, say, of cream or ivory chiffon, with a folded girdle of old blue taffeta.

So, then, with a single hat of black satin or velvet, what more in the way of a fall outfit could really be required or desired.

Cure for Ivy Poisoning.
While the doctors discuss remedies for ivy poisoning, many experienced campers have their own cures, which they have found to work perfectly. One man writes that rubbing damp table salt does the trick. Another says that every boy scout knows that the leaves of the common Jewel-weed applied to the sore spots will at least remove the pain.

TOOK HIM DOWN.

"Oh, he married a lion-tamer from the circus."

World's Oldest Drawings.

The oldest drawings in the world are believed to have been made about 25,000 years ago by prehistoric man in the caves of the Pyrenees mountains, says Boys' Life. Some of these pictures show remarkable skill in drawing, suggesting that civilization was comparatively well advanced at this period. From the relics of this period it is believed that these men had a religion of some kind, that they buried their dead, were governed by chiefs and made instruments of flint. Examples of their painting and sculpture have been found. As man goes about the earth analyzing and dissecting every object a great amount of scientific information is being gathered which will some day enable him to solve the great mystery of his early history.

BIBLE STUDY PLAN FOR HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS OFFERED ON 'DAKOTA PLAN'

For the past eight years, there has been a plan for bible study in operation in North Dakota making it possible for high school students to take a prescribed course of bible study in a Sunday school class, or other group and secure one-half credit toward graduation. The work is taken up outside of the school, but the examinations are given in the usual way during the June high school examination week.

Glasses should be started in the early fall with the opening of the regular school year, at which time the Sunday schools are rallying their forces for the year's work. Any Sunday school may start a class. The only requirements are a teacher and enough interested pupils. The next book used is the Bible--the syllabus being used as a guide for the required work. The syllabus may be secured from the North Dakota Sunday school association, 13 A. O. U. W. Bldg., Fargo, North Dakota. If further information is desired, send to the above address for the August 1919 issue of "Live Wires" which gives the history of the plan and the principles of operation together with a copy of the syllabus as used by the pupil.

Money can't buy a greater luxury or surer way to beauty

Palm and Olive oils were discovered in ancient Egypt 3,000 years ago

The easy way to beauty in a simple cake of soap

HOW do you keep your face clean? Do you give it a hasty daily washing with any old soap? Or do you perhaps depend on cold cream to remove dirt and dust? Either method is dangerous and invites bad results. Careless washing makes the skin rough and coarse. Yet complexions get soft and flabby without the tonic of water. The secret is--gently washing your face a real beauty treatment. How--by using Palmolive Soap, the beautifying cleanser. The Palmolive lather is so mild that it cleanses without irritation, no matter how sensitive is your skin. Profuse and creamy, it penetrates every tiny pore, removing the dirt, dust and oil secretions, which, when neglected, clog and irritate. Apply Palmolive Cold Cream and apply it liberally. If your skin is dry, use it both before and after washing. Palmolive is the scientific modern combination of the Palm and Olive oils Cleopatra used. It is the favorite facial soap of millions who have learned that while you pay more you can't buy better.

THE PALMOLIVE COMPANY, MILWAUKEE, U. S. A.

PALMOLIVE

Why doesn't it cost more?

Because the Palmolive factories work day and night to supply the demand. Because the Palmolive ingredients are bought in enormous quantities. This makes the Palmolive soap is kept moderate--no more than for ordinary soap. It is the quality of every woman and procured everywhere.

IGNORED
Years ago pious people used to tell of Queen Victoria's answer to the chief of some semi-civilized tribe who asked her the secret of Britain's greatness. She pointed to a Bible. And apparently she said nothing about coal and iron and the factory system.

Senator Harding has another answer:
"Our two-party system has brought progress and prosperity to America, and the party not in power has always proved capable of gaining influence to check recklessness or willfulness of the party having control."

Not the Bible, but the two-party system. And once more the enormous natural resources of the country are ignored.

Some enterprising promoter will soon put Villa in vaudeville.

NOT PROUD OF IT
There are many fields in which the United States leads the world. In most of them Americans can find pride. But there is one in which the leadership brings shame instead of enthusiasm.

The United States leads all other countries equally advanced industrially and socially in the percentage of industrial deaths. So reports one of the largest life insurance companies.

"There are," states its report, compiled after careful investigation, "not less than 85,000 deaths from accidental causes each year in this country, or at the rate of 81 per 100,000 of population. If we could reduce our accident death rate to that of England and Wales, we should have only 44,000 deaths from accident. We have, therefore, an excess of 41,000 deaths each year because conditions of life and work in this country are more hazardous than they are in England."

This is a kind of "leadership" of which America should do her best to get rid.

Omo Tokyo is the name of a new Japanese religion, not a face powder.

MUSIC
Music is the voice of the woman you have never met, but whom you love with a transcendental love—as long as the music lasts—far finer than the love of man.

Music is the aspiration for the greater good, for the most beautiful. Our aims seem petty and our achievements small in the presence of music, because she relentlessly strips the cover from our weakness and whispers that the highest course were easy, and so it is—as long as music sings. Just as music smooths the awkwardness from our physical selves as in the dance, so, too, does she soften the angles of the spirit and therein lies the secret of the charm to soothe the savage breast.

What gentle men, what tender ladies, when Music swings her baton and murmurs the magic word! Does it not seem that the courtly days and gallant have come again? And it is nothing but pure enjoyment to be a Knight of the Table Round, to be blameless as Arthur, brave as Launcelot, pure as Galahad.

Mrs. Chaplin says Charlie is a tightwad. Well, he always wore a stingy mustache but his shoes were generous.

TAMING THE GYPSY
Gypsies of the world are to be called into conference at Toledo, Spain, by their avowed king, Juan Sanchez Vargas. He proposes initiating a system of civic and religious education, and thereafter, if possible, to gather together the entire race and establish a communal life where gypsies can formulate their own laws.

But once the sons and daughters of Romany are in council, what will all the other gypsy kings of the world have to say? Will they yield the palm of their authority to Vargas without question? Or will there be a pretender, or a hundred of them, to this wanderers' throne?

For in every gypsy encampment there is a king—some aged mendicant who makes no pretence of telling your fortune for ams. He is always reputed, in whispers, to have thousands of dollars tied up in his cash, and to have killed his man a dozen times. Ask questions, and all the gypsies in the camp will spin as fine a romance as the Rommy Rye for you. The king himself says little, but he has a glittering eye on every thing. And it is not many minutes after the departure of a visitor that the king has an interview with whatever gypsy has been visited—and tipped.

Each tribe is a law unto itself—and now it is proposed to gather them into a communal state, and reunite the race. If Vargas can do that, he will do more than the Christians have done since this Egyptian race spread over Europe, and thence over America. There is wild blood in the gypsies, and he is a brave man who will attempt to tame it.

J. F. T. O'CONNOR

J. F. T. O'Connor, Democratic-Republican candidate for governor, was one of a family of eight raised on a farm in Grand Forks county. He received his common school education in the county school district in Americus township. Later he entered the University of North Dakota where he graduated from the Law and Arts Department in 1908. He did Post Graduate work at Yale University. After he completed his law course in Yale University he was retained for two years on the Yale faculty as instructor in Rhetoric. He was admitted to the practice of law in North Dakota twelve years ago. In 1916 he was elected to the legislature. Although this district consists of nine townships, Mr. O'Connor received a majority of all the votes cast in every precinct and was re-elected in 1918 without opposition, although the Nonpartisan League had and still has a large membership in these townships in the 6th District. In the legislature he took an independent stand, considered all measures upon their merits and voted in accordance with his convictions. He strongly opposed House Bill 44 which virtually sought to repeal the Constitution of the state and delivered the strongest speech of the session against that bill. His legislative record is the best proof of his independence of thought and action. He supported and voted for the terminal elevator and flour mill, for lower rates of interest, for extension of time in which to redeem from foreclosure sales, for lower attorney fees, for state hail insurance, for soldier's compensation, for workmen's compensation, women's suffrage and many other progressive measures. During the session of 1919 the minority consisting of Independent Republicans and Democrats supported him for speaker of the House.

Mr. O'Connor and his brothers are interested in farming operations in Grand Forks county. Two of his brothers live on the farm and are actively engaged in farming and stock raising. He has always been interested in North Dakota and in the marketing problems that confront the farmers and producers of this state. He understands the view-point, the difficulties and problems of the farmers better than most men.

O'Connor's Principles
For constitutional and representative government.
For all the people and not any one class.
For less politics and more efficient service in state government.
For a decrease in taxation.
For a fair trial of established state industries.
For the constructive bank plank in the Fargo platform.
For greater co-operation and better market conditions.
For a free press.—Aneta Panorama.

INTELLECTUAL PASSION
Blessed amongst mortals in the psychic city city is the old bibliophile; who has not seen him and envied him as he scurries away, gloatingly, to his lair, from library, auction or book bar, armed with his shabby, precious treasure trove, and a Monte Cristo "world-is-mine" exultation shining in his wrinkled features and glowing, virginally unworried eyes! Produce if you can any financial baron who wears that look of imperishable youth at 70 yes, 80 years; any devotee of fashion, society, or preferred stock; our "octogenarian" outclasses all! For never, never have they glimpsed that secret sphere in which "the only real events are those which take place in the mind." Aptly indeed has someone said that the intellectual passion is the only eternal one, as all others desert us just in proportion as this miserable machine which holds them approaches its ruin.—Laura Simmons in Boston Transcript.

THE NONPARTISAN LEAGUE
TOWNLEY, THE FANATIC
BY A FARMERS WIFE

Townley has been called the best beloved and most hated man in our country at the present time, and I believe it. He is beloved by all who trust him and hated by all who mistrust him and fear him for the unlimited power he seems to possess.
For, friend and foe alike declare he is a remarkable man in some respects.
I have heard him speak on several occasions, and at different places, and I have wondered what his secret of success really is. For he holds his audience from beginning to end—something very few speakers can do, especially if their speech lasts for several hours. But Townley has that gift and in that lies the secret of his phenomenal success.
Somehow, in listening to him speak to an audience estimated by the press to be around 8,000 people, I thought of the old priests of India and their religious rites, in which after the worshippers had listened to their chanting for a while they threw themselves, or their children into the open arms of their gods, and perished—willing sacrifices, while their screams of agony were drowned by the shouts of the people.
Like these old time priests Townley stands before the farmers, and like the worshippers, the farmers rush into the arms of the organization, there to be stripped of every penny they possess while their wives and children suffer.
We, who fear this thing, and what it will do are not fighting a man, nor a dozen of them, we are fighting a belief, no less deadly than that of yore.
We are fighting the belief that, has been flourishing for centuries, but has been recently broken bounds—the belief that conditions as they exist are all wrong and must be destroyed to make way for a new scheme of affairs.
It is the age old fight between capital and labor under a different name. If the farmer had not felt he was being discriminated against in the market place he would not have been so ready to listen to the organizer when he came around.
If Townleyism is once destroyed we must face the facts—the producer must receive a just share of what he produces. He knows his strength as never before and is going to use it in getting his just share, to which no one should object. Surely every laborer is worthy of his hire. An organization of farmers working for the interests of every one in the community and not for any certain class would no doubt prove a benefit for all concerned.
The farmer constitutes by far the greater majority of our population and is as a rule steady, sober and industrious. That he has been led so far astray by far fetched theories and agitation is as much the fault of the businessmen as the farmer, to a certain extent. There has not been enough co-operation between them in the past. How many cities have room and places where the farmer can bring his family while he does his trading?
Now that woman suffrage has been granted and we are all "free and equal," let the city women rectify these mistakes. Make it a point to have some of your influential friends take the matter up and get the farmers—wires interested in your room. Then talk over things not in a sort of "I know more than you" manner, but in a genuine heart to heart talk.
Nine times out of ten the farmer's wife will be glad for these little talks. She has seen nothing but the Townley papers in her home and knows absolutely nothing about the other side.

EVERETT TRUE

for, forgotten a lot you picked up at the other."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Washington, Sept. 27.—The 1920 census figures show that Iowa has fewer federal employees, and her people have made fewer applications for government jobs, than any other state in the union. Incidentally federal officials have remarked that it is harder to fill a government job in Iowa than in any other state, and sometimes residents from other states have to take federal jobs in Iowa.
Iowans are too busy raising corn to bother with "pensions."
On the other hand, the people of Virginia hold the most government jobs, and thousands of applications are pending from that state.

Back in the days of Ann Lee the Shakers of Lebanon, N. Y., advertised that they would hold a "shaker dance" at the corner of Eleventh street and Pennsylvania avenue here. That was about a half century ago. The notice of this affair is still a matter of record among the old showbills in a case at the congressional library.

In the gay city of Washington, the center of culture within a block of the White House, many distinguished persons take their meals in a stable—a place that formerly housed racehorses.

It is the National Womens Party tea-room. It is on the alley in the rear of the party's home, 14 Jackson place. Even members of the tariff commission—Edward P. Costigan and wife, for instance—go down this alley and in at the same door where many a fleet footed steed has passed, to eat.

This tea-room is probably one of the most popular in the national capital. The walls have been painted and the horsefeed room is used as a kitchen. The stall partitions were removed. Mrs. Ruth Quick, former picket, is in charge and has made a big success of it financially and as a social center, so much so that recently it has been necessary to put eating tables in one end of the room to accommodate the overflow.

Who's Who

(Contributed.)
Who was it but the game across, And is of the whole thing the boss, And now is mired up in chaos? Townley!
Who is it offers free advice, (Yet some say at an awful price), And gets of everything a slice? Lemke!
Who is it corks up all the dope, And uses plenty of soft soap, To catch the farmer-label vote? The C-N!
Who is it rests in sweet repose, On farmers' go to meetin' clothes, And smells much sweeter than a rose? The Goat!
Who is it calls on Hiram Hack, Tells how he gets it in the neck, Then asks him to sign up a check? The Organizer!
Who is it sits with look sublime, And says that things are going fine, (Yet knows they're wrong all the time)? Cathro!
Who is it sits within his place, With smiles upon his robust face, And thinks that Townley is the ace? Frazier!

Who is it swallows all the bait, And hurries onward to his fate, And thinks the League is something great? The members!
Who is it that in manner big, Declares that he will hunt the League, Accuses it of base intrigue? Brinton!

Who is it calls the others crooks, With many fierce and angry looks, Makes more noise than a flock of rooks? All of them!

Who is it that forever pays, Gets cheated forty thousand ways, Yet lives a sucker all his days? The farmer!

Mechanical Dairy Does Duty at Nitro

Washington, Sept. 27.—Lack of pasture for dairy cattle in the vicinity of Nitro, West Va., resulted in the establishment of that well-built city of a "mechanical dairy" where milk and cream equivalent to the output of a farm with 1,500 milk cows was produced, according to a government report published. The milk and cream of the fluid were labeled "reconstructed" milk or cream and "nitro-lac".

Accommodations for 25,000 inhabitants were provided at Nitro; schools, churches, hospitals, department stores, restaurants and all the other elements of a modern well-equipped community being part of the project. As a construction problem it was comparatively simple, but officials began to strike sparks as soon as they approached the task of insuring a supply of staple foodstuffs, particularly of fresh milk.

Nitro is situated in a mountainous district where little if any natural pasture is available. Local milk supplies were barely sufficient to satisfy the normal demands of Charleston, the nearest metropolis. Expansion of the natural supply being out of the question, the public health service was asked for aid and the first "mechanical dairy" required.

The process used is described as the "emulsification of butter fat obtained from unsalted butter in a solution of skimmed milk powder, or diluted evaporated milk. A building, 150 feet long by 51 feet wide, was constructed and provided with huge mixing vats, refrigerators and bottling apparatus. Chemically pure water was used in the mixing and careful tests made by the product which proved to be a little superior, if anything, to report said, to natural milk.

CONSTRUCTION OF GERMAN U BOATS STUDIED

Find Only Few Details Worthy of Copying in American Craft

Washington, Sept. 27.—Detailed examination of surrendered German U-boats built during the war has produced nothing to forecast important changes in American submarines, officers at the Navy Department assert. After careful study of the German craft and a thorough test in the long cruise across the Atlantic, American experts have found only a few unimportant details worthy of incorporating in new American undersea craft.

In periscopes and optical fittings the German boats were superior to pre-war American submarines. It was admitted. Periscopes of new navy submarines, however, are superior to the best similar fittings found on the captured vessels. It was said.

Engine equipment.

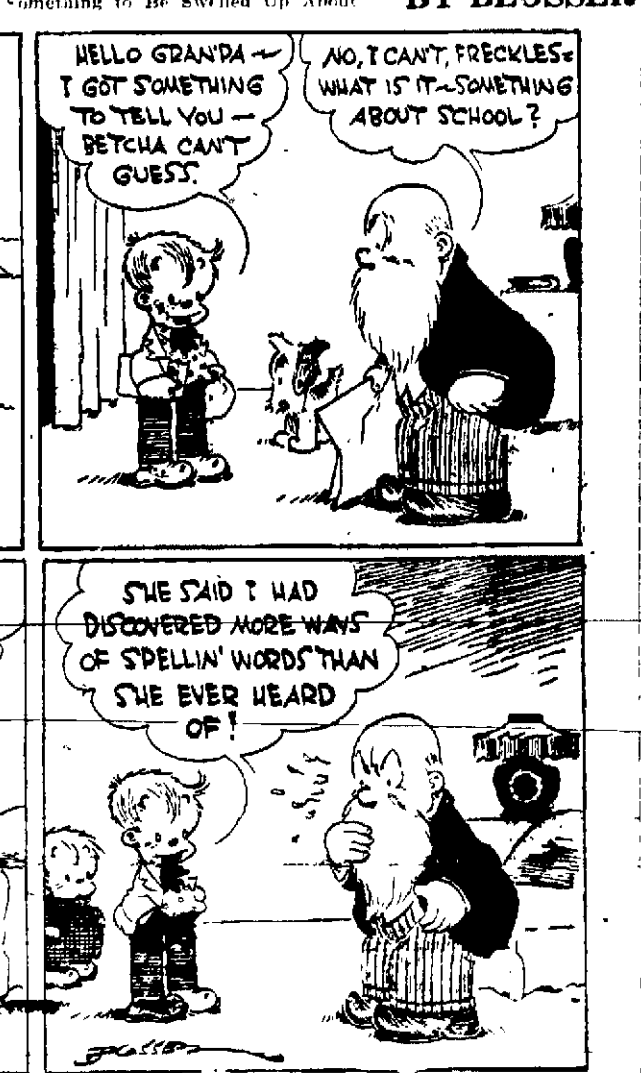

The engine equipment of the German boats was praised by American officers, but it was declared that the mechanical plants of the enemy craft were in no respect superior to those already in use in the United States navy. In many points, particularly that of mechanical simplicity, roominess and comfort for the crew, the American boats are regarded as superior to the German craft.

Examination of the surface vessels surrendered by Germany and brought to the United States recently is now in progress. Other German vessels of all classes had been previously carefully inspected by American officers abroad and officials at the department declared that they did not expect the inspection of the cruiser Oestrichland and the destroyer allocated to this country to develop any important new

SUNFLOWERS AS ENSILAGE FORM BASIS OF EXPERIMENTS

Edmonton, Alta., Sept. 27.—Extensive experiments regarding the growing of sunflowers and their use as ensilage for the feed of livestock are being conducted by the Agricultural Experiment Station of the University of Alberta. Sunflowers 10 to 15 inches in height are being harvested these days and put into silage with other crops. The silage is being fed to the livestock and the results are being recorded. The silage is being found to be a very good feed for livestock and is being used in large quantities.

Rube Marquard Pitches Fine Ball Against Giants' Putting Dodgers Out Ahead

CLEVELAND HOLDS LEAD

Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 27.—Brooklyn went one step nearer the National League championship Sunday by defeating New York, 4 to 2 and now needs only one more victory. As the race stands between the Superbas and Giants the former can lose all their remaining games and the best the Giants could by winning every one would be to tie for the pennant. The two clubs will resume their series at the Polo grounds Thursday also playing Friday and Saturday.

Brooklyn's victory today was due to the pitching of Marquard and timely hitting by his teammates. Toney started in for New York, but was touched for four hits and one run in two innings, Douglas succeeded him. Sallee pitched the last inning for the Giants and the Brooklyn team added another run. Neis, batting for Griffith, hit for two bases and after Wheat went out, scored on a single by Myers.

TIGER PITCHERS EASY

Chicago, Sept. 27.—Chicago found Detroit pitchers easy Sunday and won the first game of the series, 8 to 1, but failed to advance in the pennant race, a Cleveland's victory over St. Louis enabling the league leaders to maintain their half game advantage. The visitors used three pitchers, but their wildness, coupled with opportunistic hitting, gave the local team a commanding lead and with Cletotte pitching fine ball, Detroit had little chance. Cletotte held the visitors to seven hits, but his own error enabled Detroit to save itself from a shut-out after the first inning, when Detroit got its only run, Cletotte had things much his own way.

Chicago started scoring in the first inning, struck began with a double and advanced to third on Weavers fly. E. Collins and Jackson walked, filling the bases. Straunk scored after Fulsch had fled to Shorten, and E. Collins moved to third. Jackson, then stole second, and when Elmke cut loose with a wild pitch E. Collins hit to left.

The next inning Chicago added three more runs to its total. Then after one out, Fulsch doubled and J. Collins singled. Risberg walked and Weisman and J. Collins scored on Schalk's single. Risberg was caught off third. Schalk took second and registered when Cletotte singled.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 27.—Sewell's hitting enabled Cleveland to defeat St. Louis 7-5 Sunday and retained the lead in the American League. R. Emch, the recruit shortstop drove in four runs with a single and a double, the last hit in the third inning putting over the two runs. Sewell, to the Weisman was relieved after the first inning when he gave three bases on a double and a hit, and St. Louis drove Caldwell from the box in the same inning.

CHICAGO WILL MEET PRINCETON OCT. 22 IN EAST

Chicago, Sept. 27.—All doubt of the 1921-22 series between the Princeton and Chicago football teams not being arranged has been removed by the announcement that the first game between these two universities will be played at Princeton, N. J., on Saturday, October 22, 1921.

Coach A. A. Staag of the University of Chicago, who has so energetically and successfully attended to the Maroon end of the negotiations, in expressing his warm approval of the possibility of those contests, says: "Princeton will find in the University of Chicago a good high-class competitor with definite ideals of sportsmanship and I haven't any doubt that Chicago will find in the Easterners the same sort of a competitor."

"Undoubtedly Chicago and the West will to a certain extent get some benefit from Princeton and the East. It is undeniably true that both will find each is made of the same sort of stuff and that their meetings will result in a mutual admiration for one another, and of course that cannot fail to react pleasantly. If the East finds that the Western boys are high-grade competitors and sportsmen, as the West will find the eastern boys, there will develop a mutual respect for one another which will be extended to the body politic."

Chicago has met four eastern institutions on the gridiron. These were Pennsylvania, Cornell, Brown and West Point. The Maroons played home-and-home series with the first two, which makes the Princeton series the third with eastern teams.

The first series, with Pennsylvania in 1898, 1899, 1900 and 1901, went to the Westerners, the scores being 17-27, 5-3, 0-41, and 0-11 in favor of Pennsylvania. In 1899 Chicago played its first game with Cornell, winning 17-6. The Cornell series ran from 1903 to 1911. The two teams broke even. The first two years they tied at 6-6 in each game. Then Cornell beat Chicago 18-0 and in 1911 Chicago defeated Cornell 13-0.

The games with Brown University were both played at Chicago, in 1899 and 1900. The first went to Chicago 17-6, but Brown came back strong the next year and beat the Maroons 11-6. Chicago's only remaining encounter with the East was in 1903, when West Point beat the westerners in a desperate battle 10-6.

A. L. PITCHING MONARCH

Sergeant Jim Bagby is the American League pitching monarch of the year. Bagby came up to Cleveland from New Orleans late in 1915. His best year, excepting 1920, which is his masterpiece, was in 1917 when he won 24 games and lost 13. One of his choice fooleries is the knuckle ball. At the age of 30 he is still in his prime.

SOFUS LARSEN CLAIMS THAT JON SKOLP DISCOVERED AMERICA

Washington, Sept. 27.—How many persons discovered America before Christopher Columbus?

The latest addition to the line of claimants is Jon Skolp, a Norwegian explorer. Sofus Larsen, a Danish scientist who has recently made a report founded on researches of archives of the middle ages, has completed a work which he says proves that Skolp, the Norwegian, "rediscovered America" in 1476, 16 years ahead of Columbus and twenty years before John Cabot reached the Strait of Hudson.

Larsen uses the term "rediscovered" considering that the original discoverer was Leif Eriksson, the Norseman, in the year 1000. Larsen's researches develop, he says, that about 1475 the King of Portugal sent a message to the King of Denmark and Norway, Christian I, requesting him to fit out an expedition and attempt to find a sea passage to Asia—in reality a northwest passage. An old document to that effect was found in the Danish state archives. The expedition was headed by the Norwegian-German privateer-captain Dildrik Pining and piloted by the Norwegian pilot Jon Skolp, to whom credit is given for having reached as far as Labrador and found part of the actual entrance to the northwest passage.

In an old Spanish geographical work on America, first published in 1552 by Francisco Lopez de Gomara, a priest of Sevilla, it is mentioned that Labrador was reached for the first time by Norwegian sailors, piloted by John Skolp. (John Skolp). This information was first made public by the Norwegian professor of history Gustav Storm in 1886. But at that time this part of the history of the discoveries was still in its infancy, and isolated as it was then, the information naturally had to be used with great caution. Later on new material was found pointing in the same direction. One of the sources was a famous globe, dating from 1537 and made by the Dutch physician and mathematician, Gemma Frisius, who points out that North America was reached in 1476 by Johannes Scolvus.

Johannes Scolvus is a name unknown in Norwegian history. Dr. Larsen connects it with the Norwegian surname Skolp, which means a man from the shores or fishing places of northern Norway. His deed became famous in his own time, but on account of various conditions not traceable now, it was veiled in obscurity and forgotten. The account of his voyage undoubtedly has some significance to other expeditions. No western as well as English and Portuguese, Dr. Fridtjof Nansen in one of his scientific works has proved that even 100 years later English explorers were familiar with the expedition of Johannes Skolp, namely when preparing for Martin Frobiush's travel to Greenland in 1576.

PRETTY THINGS TEMPT; THEFTS FERRETED OUT

Police Recover Valuable Articles Taken From Local Stores by Women

SPARE THEM AN ARREST

The temptation of pretty things in local stores has proved too strong for several Bismarck women recently. Though several have been caught in the act of shoplifting, or goods recovered from them, the arrests have been made, the merchants wishing to spare them this humiliation.

Some days ago several cases of shoplifting were discovered in the store of A. W. Lucas & Company, and Chief of Police Martinson was called in to investigate the case. Since that time about $150 worth of articles of women's wear of various kinds have been recovered, and in every case the person confronted with evidence of guilt admitted it.

As a result of these cases strict watch is being maintained on the stores in the city. Shoplifting is one of the most difficult crimes with which to deal. In many cases, it is said, the persons who fall before the temptation of kleptomaniacs are persons of good standing, ordinarily honest, and there is no desire upon authorities to bring upon them the humiliation of arrest and perhaps a short jail sentence.

However, if the cases increase in Bismarck it may be necessary to take more drastic action than has been taken lately.

One merchant has placed shoplifting loss as high as one percent of the business.

Goods Recovered.

In connection with the recovery of goods for the Lucas company, it has become known that recovery of goods valued at $1,700 was made by Chief Martinson in southern Morton county. A peddler operating in that part of the county had been attacked, his wagon and goods taken. Chief Martinson was called into the case. He has statements of four men who admitted that they attacked the peddler and took away his goods "as a joke," hid them in a threshing machine and then removed them to a strawpile in which they buried them. Morton county officials, it is understood, have made no arrests in the matter.

BEACH SOLDIER GETS WELCOME

Beach, N. D., Sept. 27.—Joe Lenore received a belated welcome from Beach folks when he returned to visit after undergoing long treatment for wounds received in the war.

After being shot in the knee in February, 1918, he was gassed when the Germans pulled "an April fool joke." He was bayoneted in the fight and left thigh near Cantigny, a thumb was shot off on the Lorraine front, the third finger of his left hand was shot off at Chateau Thierry, and in August he was bayoneted in the arm.

Since his return to America, he has been in many hospitals.

FARMERS HOLD ON TO WHEAT

Chicago, Sept. 27.—Replied to questionnaires sent to 200 grain elevator companies in middlewestern states indicate that farmers are holding wheat for higher prices, according to a statement from the Farmers' National Grain Dealers' association. Replies show, the statement said, that wheat shipments this year are much lower than last and that elevators which normally were filled to capacity are now only about one-fourth full. The statement said farmers were holding their grain "because they cannot make a fair profit at present prices."

Mirages in Scotland.

Mirages have been recently reported on a number of Scottish roads. In an observation by A. C. Ramsay, the mirage was seen over a dry, sheltered road of blumen and crushed stone, and showed pools of water clearly reflecting the foliage, with other pools beyond. The pools vanished as they were approached, reappearing as the observer retreated. The day was bright and clear, and vibrations of the air seemed to be imparted to telegraph poles and insulators. Photographs of some mirages have been secured. One taken in August of last year shows the shaded side of a telegraph pole, and neighboring trees and a white house beyond are apparently reflections from a road pool.

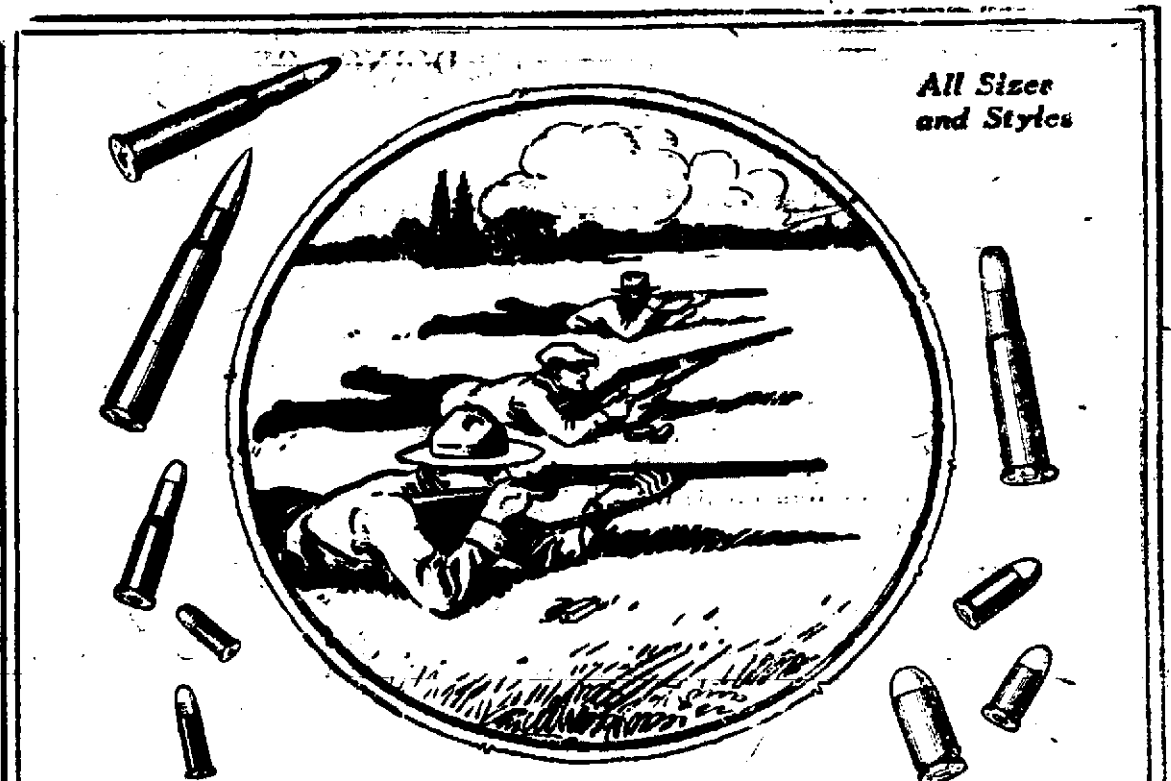

Untrue Courage.

There is a sort of courage, which, I frankly confess it, I do not possess—a boldness to which I dare not aspire, a valor which I cannot covet. I cannot lay myself down in the way of the welfare and happiness of my country. That, I cannot—I have not the courage to do. I cannot interpose the power with which I may be invested—a power conferred, not for my personal benefit, nor for my aggrandizement, but for my country's good—to check her onward march to greatness and glory. I have not courage enough, I am too cowardly for that.—Henry Clay.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

Union Stock Yards, South St. Paul, Sept. 27.—Best hogs hit the high point of the year last Monday when they sold at $17 to $17.25 but a three-day decline of 50c to 75c cut values down to $16.40 for the upper limit. The market opened a little higher Friday but closed steady at the decline. Bulk of mixed hogs sold at $16.10 to $16.30 with packers and throwaways at $12 to $16. Choice stock pigs cashed at $15 to $15.25. Receipts were the largest in weeks, totalling around 20,000.

Cattle values took a slump and most grades dropped 50c to $1 with the exception of canners and bulls. Most kinds of killers and stockers and feeders are at the low point of the season. There was very little steer trade above $10 and bulk sold at $6 to 9.00.

Money-Back Cartridges

U. S. Cartridges are sold with the broadest guarantee ever made on ammunition. It is simply this: if you don't like them, get your money back.

Every dealer who carries U. S. Cartridges is authorized to refund, on demand, the price of the whole box to anyone who doesn't like them, and returns the unused part of the box.

There is no 22 Long Rifle cartridge as accurate at distances from 50 to 250 yards as U. S. 22 N. R. A. Long Rifle Lesmok Cartridges. This is 50 more yards of accuracy than has hitherto been possible with 22 rim-fire ammunition.

Solid bullet for target work. Hollow-point bullet for small game. Cost no more.

Butcher cows sold a little more readily than steers but at prices which reflected the decline. Few sales went above $7.50 to $8.00 and business was heavy at $5.50 to $6.50. Canners and cutters were selling at $3.00 to $5 with bulls at $1.25 to $3.00. Top vealers were quoted at $15. Stocker and feeder trade was dull with good cattle going a begging. Steers were available at $6 to $11 with she stuff down around $5 to $6.00. Dairy cows closed $5 to 10.00 lower with most sales under $100—Receipts were 40,000.

Sheep and lambs closed 50c to $1 lower but lambs advanced slightly at the close. Best natives were selling up to $11.50 with westerns at $12.50. Native ewes cashed at $2 to $5. Good feeders are obtainable at $8 to $12. Receipts were 30,000.

Get the Listening Habit

It is recounted that on occasion a certain wise man was asked the first rule of getting along in the world of people. The answer came back—"Be a good listener."

In these days of modern "listen" to messages that are newspapers, reading corresponds to listening. In the news columns are the printed views and opinions of the foremost men and women of our day—leaders in thought and action. To be well informed, you read what they have to say, just as you would listen if they were speaking to you.

In the advertising columns, you have the opportunity to even closer and more vital to your everyday life. Your own townspeople, as well as men and women from all over the world are telling you their stories. For your benefit. There's an endless array of articles from which you can choose. The choice is simple if you're a good listener—the more you listen the more you know and the better able to buy.
